

PROVERBS 6:6-27

ICE BREAKER

Which TV ads get your attention and why? What sales pitch jingle rings in your mind most often?

DISCUSSION

1. What is most challenging in these verses? Encouraging?
2. Tell a time where you have seen a disconnect between someone's intention and their destination?
3. In our culture, what are some pastimes that often turn out to be pathways (a place where you didn't intend to go; it veers off of the direction you were meant to be headed towards)?
4. When was the last time some smooth talker persuaded you to buy or do something that lead you onto a beaten path? What did you learn from that experience?
5. Who has that person been for you in the past where they can see what you can't see?

BOTTOM LINE

There's a disconnect between what we intend and what direction we choose.
Therefore, your direction determines your destiny.

NEXT STEP

Last time, you identified an area in which you might be moving in the wrong direction. In one sentence, describe your intention in that area of life.

--

Direction always trumps intention. So what's one thing you can begin doing right now to move in that direction?
